Nearly $80,000 In Taxes Paid By The Electric System

The Murray Electric System Thursday handed checks totaling $79,190 to taxing districts in Calloway County representing tax payments for the years 1968 and 1969. The checks handed over Thursday are in addition to $40,000 which has already been paid on taxes for these two years.

The local TVA power distributor is the only distributor in the state which has settled these taxes which have been in litigation since early 1968 in various communities within the state.

The tax controversy began because of a ruling in 1965 by the State Court of Appeals which said that all property in the state must be assessed at 100 per cent of sale value. At that time the Murray Electric System and other TVA power distributors in the state, were paying taxes on the basis of 100 per cent of book value. When all property was raised to 100 percent of sale value, the possibility arose that TVA power distributors would have a veritable landfall in tax reduction since the tax rate was dropped to about one-third of its former amount.

Both the city school system and the city of Murray budget would have suffered greatly since Murray Electric System contributed over $23,000 in taxes to the city schools in 1965 and over $15,000 to the city treasury. In 1965 also Calloway County received over $9,000 and the state over $6,000.

In order that the budgets of the local taxing districts would not suffer from the sudden drop in revenue, Murray Electric System, with the agreement of

Cambodian Troops Recapture Kirirom From Guerillas Today

BY ROBERT KAYLOR PHNOM PENH (UPI)—Cambodian units have recaptured the mountaintop town of Kirirom from guerrilla soldiers, who were reported today to have withdrawn after setting fire to several buildings, including ousted Prince Norodom Sihanouk's former vacation retreat.

A military spokesman said the five government battalions, three of them made up of tribesmen trained by U.S. Gen. Berets in Vietnam, had suffered "fairly heavy" losses in the six-day battle that ended Thursday afternoon. No Communist casualties were given.

Military spokesmen in the Cambodian capital said the Communists retreated from Kirirom after burning Chalet d'Estate, Sihanouk's former retreat, a military shop and several other buildings overlooking Highway 4.

The command in Phnom Penh, in addition, reported a second day of fighting at the government supply depot at Long Vek, 30 miles north of Phnom Penh on Highway 7. Spokesmen said an estimated 300 guerrillas first attacked the garrison Wednesday night. In an apparent attempt to prevent reinforcements from reaching Long Vek from Phnom Penh, Communist commandos were said to have blown up a bridge on the highway Thursday. The government said traffic was rerouted around the damaged span.

Official communiques listed several other smaller fights—a skirmish killing four guerrillas near the province capital at Kompong Som, shelling attacks that killed five government soldiers near Takeo south of Phnom Penh, and a series of clashes in the same area.

From Saigon, the U.S. Military Command sent four more waves of B52 bombers against a North Vietnamese supply bastion in the A Shau Valley in South Vietnam's far northwest corner overnight. Combat remained at its lowest level since July 1.

Government Report Says Worst Probably Over In Severe Business Slump

By NORMAN KEMPSTER WASHINGTON (UPI)—Prospects for an upturn in the economy this fall brightened today following a government report that indicated the worst probably is over in the most severe business slump in a decade.

The Commerce Department said Thursday the nation's total output of goods and services increased 0.3 per cent during the last three months, ending a slide that had pushed output down during the previous six months.

Harold C. Passer, assistant commerce secretary for economic policy, said the report showed "the economy has stabilized," this lays the founda-

Masonic Building Also Broken Into On Thursday Night

Thieves entered Graham-Jackson, a men's clothing store on the square in Murray, sometime last night and escaped with approximately $5000 worth of suits, shirts and slacks, according to a spokesman for the store.

Apparently the same thieves entered the Masonic Hall, located on the second floor over Wallis Drug Store adjoining Graham-Jackson, but did little damage there and it appeared this morning that nothing was stolen from the Masonic Hall. Several windows panes were broken out and two folding tables were found outside the building, however.

Entry into Graham-Jackson's was gained through a skylight on the roof of the building. Apparently the thief or thieves cut the glass in the skylight with a glass cutter and then placed a pipe across the opening, tied a rope to the pipe and lowered themselves into the building on the rope.

The burglary was discovered this morning when the store opened for business and it was reported that over 100 new suits were taken in the robbery.

Several suits and other clothes, as well as a new suitcase were found piled beside the back door of the store and were apparently left there when the thieves made their getaway.

Red Cross Elects New Officers And Directors

The Calloway County Red Cross Chapter met in regular session Tuesday, July 14, at the courthouse. New officers elected were Robert Moyer, Chairman, Holmes Ellis, Vice-Chairman, Ruth Cole, Secretary, and Sid Easley, Treasurer. Directors re-elected were Charles Hale, Lester Nanny, Harvey Ellis, Holmes Ellis, and Sid Easley for terms of three years each.

Directors, service chairmen, and staff expressed their appreciation to Lester Nanny, who served as chairman for the past two years, and to Harold Hurt, Fund Campaign Chairman, Karl Hussung, University Chairman, Shirley Boone, Publicity Chairman, Jayne Scott, Youth Enrollment, and all the March Fund Drive workers and solicitors.

Sid Easley reported that financial records indicated services could be maintained for the coming year, but that it would be a very "tight" budget. $7498.81 has been collected with some pledges and solicitations due.

"Of this, 55percent will be retained for local use and the remainder spent on national and international projects, such as disaster, blood, and world-wide service to the military," Easley said.

Jean Blankenship, Chapter Executive, reported on the chapter work during the quarter. She said that 75 emergency military cases were handled, and several veteran "appeals" processed. She also reported that the annual birthday party at Ft. Campbell would be provided by the Young Women's Association of the Baptist Church who would take 12 birthday cakes, lemonade, and gifts to the military hospital wards, and would also entertain groups of patients in the hospital lounge.

The Waiting Wives Club, organized by the local chapter, meets twice monthly, and according to Mrs. Blankenship, members have said that it is a big help to them while their husbands are away in military service.

Mrs. Blankenship urged support of the Letters to Hanoi, International Red Cross project in behalf of North Vietnamese Prisoners of War.

Mrs. Gaylord Forrest, Water Safety Chairman, reported that 21 Water Safety Instructors and 81 Lifesaving Certificates were issued in May and June. In addition the Learn-To-Swim program which ended July 2 resulted in the enrollment of 156 students, and the turning away of many more who desired lessons.

She said that instructors and aides were available, but the

Twelve New School Buses Delivered To Calloway Co. Board

The Calloway County Board of Education has received 12 new, 1970 model, school buses which will be put into service this fall when school opens according to Superintendent Bill Miller.

Seven of the buses are sixty passenger Fords and five are sixty-six passenger Internationals. This is the first time that the Board has purchased any of the sixty-six passenger buses. However, due to over-crowded conditions on several bus routes in the county, buses with extra seating capacities were needed to relieve this overloading he said.

The purchasing of these buses was made possible by the Calloway County Board of Education and the Murray Independent Board of Education agreeing upon and asking for the enacting of the three per cent Gross Receipts utility Tax. The County Board intends to use its receipts from the tax again next year to purchase an additional twelve buses which will give the Board practically a new fleet.

The Calloway County Board is operating thirty-nine buses each day. If a plan can be initiated for the purchase of five buses a year over an eight year period, yearly depreciation allotments will be made through the State's Minimum Foundation Program which, over the eight year period, will pay 60 to 70 per cent of the total cost of the new buses so states Louis Yandall, Director, Division of Pupil Transportation, State Department of Education of Frankfort, Kentucky.

Therefore, Miller concluded, "It is advisable for the County Board of Education to up-date its fleet of buses in order to take advantage of the depreciation schedule as well as to provide a more safe and comfortable program of transportation for our children."

What To Do With The Space Program Money

Dad said if it stayed dry he was going to volunteer to be an astronaut. Now, when I heard him say that I was sure he had been in the sun too long. But dad said no, that was exciting work. Dad said it would be a new point of view to get up above everything and look down on the dust and smoke and trouble. I felt lucky so I said you would still see the same things, only from a different direction and you could do just as well to dig a deep hole and look up. And dad looked at me and said that I was already in a hole.

Dad said that a lot of money was being spent on the space flights and the only trouble was that only a few people could see the real fireworks. He said he guessed that there were better ways of spending money. He said it would be much better to buy up all the fireworks and give them to every town in the United States. Then each town could set them off for a whole month so everybody could see first hand. People like to see where their money goes and they like to get their money's worth. And I said it's about time we got what was coming to us. Dad said that the more I talked the more I had coming, so I shut up because I don't like fireworks to get too close.

Dad said that he guessed it would be even better to take all that money and give it to the poor. I thought about that and said, "But most poor folks are getting food and clothes and hospital credit already." I'm not against that, I just wanted dad to know it. Dad said, "Yes, I know it, but they don't have any fireworks of their own, and it is plumb degrading to go to a fireworks party without any fireworks. And I thought about it, and asked dad, "What in the world are you talking about?" And dad said that if there wasn't so much space between my little ears, I'd know.

He Ain't Buried Yet

Creased ebony skin turned dull stretched tight on the rigid form lying still and silent in the silk and care of a cloth covered wooden box. No daughter came or wife to kiss the lips long silent. All is silent except for the sound of trampling feet marching by to see the man that couldn't be buried. And the undertaker said, "Ain't he natural, after sixty years looking for a home?" Looks a little tired after sixty years' sleep.

No one has ever come to claim that he ever lived or was loved by a suckling mother, who sang lullabies to him as he closed sleepy eyes. Son of a slave, they said, maybe one himself, while he was young. Came to Ohio to be free, and now he's free, lying in a box behind glass, stared at.

State law that kin or friend must sign the certificate of death, or you can't be buried, just lie there and look tired after sixty years. It's the law of human compassion to care for and bury the dead, but there's a man in Blandchester, Ohio, dead sixty years, and he ain't buried yet!

'Suicides' who aren't

The most striking single feature which distinguishes the fake suicide is heavy involvement with law enforcement agencies,

Peculiar Patents

Could you get a patent on an alarm clock that squirts cold water down a sleeper's neck? A man in Chicago did.

What about a balloon drawn through the sky by eagles? Or a stickpin made of candy, to be eaten after use? Or an automatic hat tipper for lazy gentlemen? These, too, all won patents.

To the inventor's neighbors, such ideas might seem pretty silly. And our patent law does say that, for an idea to be patentable, it must be "useful."

However, in deciding what is useful, the law is very tolerant indeed. The law remembers (even if the neighbor's don't) that people laughed too at Alexander Graham Bell's first telephone and at the Wright brothers' first airplane.

True, you cannot get a patent on something that has no use at all. For example, an inventor claiming to have created a "perpetual motion machine" was turned down on this ground. The ruling pointed out that the machine could not possibly work, because it was contrary to the laws of nature.

Nor can you patent a device which is useful only to do evil. Thus, a court rejected a patent for a method of faking the appearance of tobacco leaves for the purpose of making them look better than they really were.

The judge said: "Congress did not intend to extend protection to (inventions) which confer no other benefit upon the public than the opportunity of profiting by deception and fraud. The invention must be capable of some beneficial use as distinguished from a pernicious use."

But for most inventors, the test of usefulness can be passed without too much trouble. The law generally takes the same optimistic attitude that Benjamin Franklin once took when he was asked: "What is the use of this new invention?"

Franklin's reply was: "What is the use of a newborn child?"

NEW YORK (UPI) — There's something about a drive in a car that sets off childhood appetites.

But food involves containers, pits, rinds, cores and wrappings. For the sake of America, the litter-free, keep a refuse container in the car. Do not let children throw refuse out the window. It is unsafe, illegal and inconsiderate.

Don't Swear!

It's a Bible command... a common-sense law of life. "Thou shalt not take the name of The Lord Thy God in vain." THEN WHY DO YOU DO IT?? Careless habit? Limited vocabulary? Calloused soul? JUST WHY DO YOU DO IT? "The Lord will not hold him guiltless that taketh His name in vain." Man; too, will hold you guilty. The members of your family, — the fellows in your office, — the stranger on the street — none of them like it! Your family deserves better of you. Your neighbors expect better of you. God requires better of you. Go to church and break the swearing habit. Learn to respect and honor and reverence God's name. Please don't swear!

The birth rate must be cut!

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I would like to pass along a little advice to the young mother who was so upset over having to tell her mother they were expecting their third child in 5 years.

When I told my little 96-year-old mother that my daughter was expecting her fourth child, she looked at me and smiled, and said, "It is always nice to put an extra chair up to the table than to take one away."

MACON, MISSOURI

DEAR MISSOURI: Your "little 96-year-old mother" was probably thinking about the days of her youth when another child meant another much needed farmhand. Today, if somebody doesn't blow the whistle on the birth rate, we won't NEED any chairs.

DEAR ABBY: All four of your corners are showing again. I refer to your backward attitude with regard to "swinging."

Any swinger can tell you that there are personality clashes between "hip" people the same as between the squares. Incompatibility is not just a word used by lawyers to obtain favorable court action for the clients.

You could have told your correspondent to increase the number of couples she and her husband go around with. Perhaps one of the new wives will dig her husband, and one of the new husbands will dig her. There is nothing in the rules that limits the number of participating couples.

NEVADA READER

DEAR READER: Let's call a spade a spade. The kind of "digging" you seem to dig is the best way I know to bury a marriage.

DEAR ABBY: You hear doctors complain that they are cornered at cocktail parties and asked for free professional advice. Well, how about lawyers?

I am married to a lawyer, and a doctor friend of ours corners him every time we see them socially, and this doctor has gotten plenty of free legal advice from my husband. At the last social gathering, my husband gave him at least $300 worth of legal advice regarding his ex-wife's right to claim more support money for their child.

When I commented later to my husband that he and our doctor friend were in a huddle for a very long time, my husband said, "He always wants some free legal advice. When you or the children go to his office, he sends me a bill!"

But then he calmed down and said, "But as long as I'm with people and have to talk about something, I'd prefer to be talking law."

ATTORNEY'S WIFE

DEAR WIFE: Your husband has a point. But not all lawyers like to talk "law" when they're out socially.

DEAR ABBY: In reply to CARL, and all his statistics about women being upgraded to the same status as men:

I weigh 100 pounds. Obviously I am not about to demand a job with the Green Bay Packers in the name of "women's rights." [A 100 pound MAN couldn't make the team either.] I might qualify as a jockey, however, and shouldn't be kept from this occupation because I am a woman.

I wouldn't make a very good ditch-digger, either. I don't have the strength. Few 100 pound MEN are ditch-diggers. On the other hand, some 175 pound woman might do well in this job.

If I were to demand equal rights and opportunities in this society, I would be more than willing to share the responsibilities, to be subject to the draft and combat duty [as all women in Israel are], to pay my own way on dates, etc. As for ulcers, I already have one.

Yours Sincerely,

ANN T.: S.F., CAL.

Wall Street Chatter

NEW YORK (UPI) - When the brakes were applied in the spring of 1969, "notwithstanding the skepticism that had prevailed," it took a few months before the effect was felt, Goodbody & Co. notes. The company feels that the present "more liberal policies" place the "investment outlook as it relates to economic conditions...at the opposite side of the circle from that of 15 months ago." While further base-building will be needed to restore investor confidence, the company anticipates "significant improvement in the investment environment in the months ahead."

"The negative developments in the market over the last two weeks still remain in force," according to TPO Inc. The firm says "an overwhelming majority" of issues that established uptrends from May lows "have violated their lines of support and appear likely to test their lows." Since many of the "weakest" are making new lows, the firm believes this "could tip the scale in favor of another slide."

"The deflation of glamour stocks is still not finished," Hopkin Bros. & Co. says. The company sees Wall Street "paralyzed by fear of a spectacular new bankruptcy." However, it adds that the "degree of despair reflected in present price levels is our most effective insurance against another collapse."

Wright Investors' Service believes "the eye of the economic storm" has passed but adds that "heavy weather will persist for some time." The firm says the inflationary demands of Vietnam "are clearly diminishing" and the "excessively restrictive monetary policy is being loosened." The company concludes that since the "root causes" of the inflationary boom and bust are gone, "conditions for a resurgence of economic productivity and profits are present."

Tv notes

NEW YORK (UPI)—George Plimpton, the society litterateur who will try anything once in the interest of making a dollar via books, television, movies or you-name-it, has two one-hour specials scheduled for the ABC network next season. The dilettante footballer, boxer golfer, etc., will do one show with a circus, as lion tamer, clown and trapeze artist, and the other has him playing the "heavy" in a John Wayne movie, "Rio Lobo."

NBC Sports has exclusive United States television rights to the 11th Winter Olympic Games at Sapporo, Japan, Feb. 3-13, 1972.

It is to be hoped that everyone with a television set has or will have a chance to see the syndicated British-made series "The Forsyte Saga," dramatization of the celebrated John Galsworthy novels. Aside from the pleasure to be had from this beautifully produced and acted series, you may be inspired to read or re-read the books, any of which is worth a dozen of today's best-selling novels.

The Kearney kids of Verona, N.J., are making quite a good thing out of television. Eileen aged 11, has been signed for a term contract for NBC's daytime serial, "The Doctors," to play Greta, daughter of the program's Matt and Maggie.

This follows numerous video commercials and other programs. Her two brothers, Michael and Mark, recently had important roles on the NBC special of its American Rainbow series, "Boston Spy Party," and Michael was in the later "Inside World of Outer Space" of the same series.

NBC's telecast of the Miss America Pageant finals, 50th anniversary of the contest, will be on Sept. 12, 10 p.m., to mid night.

We lend money to farmers and ranchers. Nobody else. And the people who borrow buy stock in PCA. That way, they tell us what to do. They decide who is really going to run our operation.

It's a great arrangement. We end up being owned and operated by the people who need—and use—our service. So we know all about their special money needs. Bride-to-be can hint for kitchen gifts

BURLINGTON, Vt. (UPI)—A University of Vermont home economist says prospective brides can save themselves, their friends and relatives a few headaches by "thinking kitchen."

"Equipping the first kitchen with pots and pans involves a long list of needs," points out Faith Prior of the University's Extension Service.

She suggests the following as "standard equipment" for every kitchen: coffee maker, double boiler, 10- or 12-inch fry pan, 8-inch fry pan, 8-quart kettle with lid, 1- and 4-quart saucepans, teapot, two 8- or 9-inch layer cake pans, casserole with lid, cookie sheet, cooling rack, six custard cups and two pie pans.

Accessories, the "luxury" equipment of the kitchen, can include a griddle, another saucepan, teakettle, 10-by-14-inch baking pan, bread pan, 8- or 9-inch square cake pan, second cookie sheet, second cooling rack, 8-to-12-cup muffin pan and a roaster.

"All families differ in their cooking habits," Mrs. Prior says. "Cross off unnecessary equipment. It will only take up valuable space."

She also cautions against buying sets of pans as an unwise practice because all members of the set may not be used often enough to justify the space and cost.

"Plan your list carefully and let your family and friends know about it," she adds. "Gifts you receive will be the kind you can use—not the kind you hide away and dust off when friends or family visit."

STILL BOSS — Ending speculation that he was on the way out, Soviet Premier Alexei Kosygin was confirmed by the Supreme Soviet in Moscow to succeed himself.

SEVEN CHILDREN KILLED outright is the toll of this scene near Allentown, Pa., where a chartered bus carrying 61 persons skidded off the rain-slicked highway and rolled over and over down the 50-foot shale embankment. The bus was from wealthy Lawrence, L.I., a New York suburb, on an overnight excursion to the Pennsylvania Dutch country.

Television In Review

By RICK DU BROW
HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — I'm beginning to think that ABC-TV's "The Courtship of Eddie's Father" is one of television's most underrated series. In fact, I'm sure of it.

I've been watching some reruns of the show this summer, and I suggest you do also to see how a so-called "situation comedy" can be quietly civilized and gentle, particularly in its contemporary attitude toward the relationship of a father and his young son.

The fact is that, although "The Courtship of Eddie's Father" is technically classified as a situation comedy, it is a bit more than that—not heavy stuff certainly, but an entertainingly cool and intelligent piece of light, human fare.

The series is based originally on a movie of the same name, concerning a small boy who tries to find a wife for his father (Glenn Ford). In the television adaptation, the Glenn Ford part is taken over by Bill Bixby.

And although the boy in the series (Brandon Cruz) is also dedicated to seeking out a wife for his widowed father, this is merely the running thread—a sort of light underpinning—for a program that is essentially about a man and a boy. And this relationship is what makes it unique and often nicely touching.

The way Bixby and Cruz get along on an acting basis is altogether charming. They are so real in their attitudes and affection toward each other that they frequently seem to be an actual father and son.

And, as their housekeeper, Miyoshi Umeki is a fine part of the regular cast—never too obvious, yet a mature, occasional mother substitute for Master Cruz. The notion that Miss Umeki could well be the wife that the young man is seeking for his father is always softly present, but it never pushed hard. It is just that Miss Umeki's understated presence is, as always, gently potent.

I liked one program in which the young boy frankly decides he doesn't care much for his grandmother — his father's mother. She is, in fact, pretty definitely a pain. And Bixby is nicely understanding about it, for his chief loyalty is to his son.

The show's lilting, delightful musical score, by the way, is sung and composed by the important young pop artist Harry Nilsson. Like most everything else on the program, it has tasteful values.

PERMANENTLY ON ICE
SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (UPI) — Police Wednesday shot to death a robbery suspect who pulled a gun and told them while sitting on top of his kitchen refrigerator that he would not be taken alive. Police had gone to the house to serve Thomas C. Leek, 23, with a warrant.

PAEOC Is Breathing Its Last

No attempt will be made to salvage the defunct Purchase Area Economic Opportunity Council by its executive director Curlee Brown, who said Thursday night he refuses to take the responsibility for the organization's death.

The War on Poverty agency was defuncted June 30 by the Office of Economic Opportunity and phase-out operations are to be completed by Monday.

Brown said the organization has been denied a rehearing by the regional OEO office in Atlanta, adding that he had no plans to seek a rehearing for the organization.

"You could get one now," Brown said, "but you have no one to get it for you because I am not going to do it like I did the last time."

The executive director was referring to last March when the PAEOC was defuncted but was allowed to operate on a one-year provisional grant which the organization received in May following a series of hearings.

Brown said the death of PAEOC was due to "dissension within the operational framework of PAEOC" and "lack of action by the members of the board."

The executive director said there are several instances where members of his staff attempted to undermine to operation of the War on Poverty agency.

He added that none of the committees formed by the PAEOC board functioned or made monthly reports as any activities.

Brown also blasted the present PAEOC board chairman, Alton Arnold, saying the PAEOC program started going downhill after Arnold became chairman earlier this year.

"All of this pussyfooting around and doing nothing has served only to get the program killed off which is what the OEO wanted in the first place," Brown said.

Brown pointed out that only one board member was at the meeting Thursday night and that Arnold was absent.

"The majority of the board is completely unconcerned whether this program succeeds or fails and as a result it failed," Brown said.

Wall Street Chatter

NEW YORK (UPI)—Argus Research Corp. believes that "pre-tax profits may rise about 15-20 per cent by the second quarter of 1971." Thus, the firm says, "the present situation offers a historic opportunity to buy." It adds that further financial failures may "pop up" but the "risk-reward ratio (is) distinctly favorable, particularly now that long-term interest rates have turned downward."

"The internal condition of the market has shown great improvement over the past 19 months," Harris, Upham & Co. says. But, the company adds, just when the internal market conditions were generating confidence, "the advance was checked by evidence that the liquidity conditions are serious." The firm points out that many sound companies "are not burdened" with near term maturities and shifting into stocks of these companies "should prove rewarding."

"Unofficial revisions in the federal budget deficits for fiscal years 1971 and 1972 continue to have a highly disturbing upward trend," according to Townsend-Greenspan and Co., Inc. The company feels that the "uncontrollable" increases "are beginning to outstrip the ability of a normally growing economy to throw off sufficient revenues under the existing tax rate structure." The effects of further short-term, "politically expedient patchworks to the budget could be staggering and the possibility of a massive inflationary upsurge... cannot be easily dismissed," it adds.

LICK THE PROBLEM

ASHTON-UNDER-LYNE, England (UPI) — It took 11 years, but Jim Dobbs says he has saved 1,216,000 trading stamps — enough for a new car. The 44-year-old salesman, who expects to take delivery soon, said Wednesday, "I never want to lick another stamp."

Beginning on the north right of way of the Bazzell Graveyard Road and at a stake in an old fence row, said fence row being the first fence row west of a barn on the north side of said road belonging to Grantors; thence north with a fence row 175 feet; thence west 150 feet parallel with the Bazzell Graveyard Road to a stake; thence south 175 feet to a stake in the north right of way of the Bazzell Graveyard Road; thence east with the north right of way with the Bazzell Graveyard Road 150 feet to the point of beginning.

TVA, paid the same tax in 1966 and 1967 as they did in 1965 when the court ruling was made.

Had Murray Electric paid taxes according to the drop in tax rate, they would have paid $17,218 in 1966 and $19,260 in 1967. They actually paid $41,148 and $42,101 respectively for the two years.

In 1968 the Kentucky General Assembly passed what is known as Senate Bill 268 which said in effect that the TVA power distributors in Kentucky would pay taxes based on the same tax rate used in 1965.

The tax problem then went into the courts with the city of Glasgow Power Board and the city of Paducah Power Board bringing suits to keep the boards from paying taxes based on the 1965 figure.

Locally the Murray Electric System paid approximately $40,000 total for the years 1968 and 1969 combined, the maximum allowed by TVA while the taxes were being litigated.

With several communities being affected by the controversy, House Bill 659 was passed in 1970. This bill set up a new basis for tax computation by the power distributors. The bill also provided that electric systems, if they wished, could enter into an agreement with the taxing districts to pay a maximum of 120 per cent of what was paid in taxes in 1965. This could be retro-active for the years 1968 and 1969.

This is what took place in Murray. The Murray Electric System agreed to this basis for tax payments as well as the taxing districts.

Under this arrangement, in addition to the $40,000 already paid for 1968 and 1969, Murray Electric paid the city school system $39,345.10, county school system $56.01, city of Murray $24,714.95, Calloway County $15,074.58 for a grand total of $79,190.64.

Under this same House Bill 659 the taxes for 1970, due the coming fall, will amount to $56,072.

E. S. Ferguson, Superintendent of the system pointed out today that in addition to the above taxes the system also collects $72,786 (last year) in sales taxes which it turns over to the state and $43,672 in the gross receipts tax which goes to the school system.

There is still another tax which the Murray Electric System pays. Five per cent of its gross power purchases from TVA is returned to the state of Kentucky for distribution in areas served by TVA. Last year this amounted to $50,000 of which only $500 was returned to Murray. Distribution of these funds is based on investment by TVA, not power sales in the area.

factors." But he added, "there is some encouraging evidence on the price front."

In a related development, Walter Heller, chief economic adviser to former President John F. Kennedy, said inflation is "at last on the wane." He urged the Nixon administration to ease up on economic restraints that could produce a recession.

But Raymond J. Saulnier, top economic adviser to former President Dwight D. Eisenhower, disagreed. He said: "There is as yet too little evidence that inflation is being overcome to justify a relaxation of restraint."

Heller said unemployment could go as high as 6 per cent next year unless the administration eases the economic brakes. He said the winter slump was the nation's "first consciously induced, managed and engineered economic downswing."

The GNP increase was due primarily to a spurt in spending by consumers. Both government spending and business investment were almost unchanged. Disposable personal income increased by a record $19 billion, pushed up by retroactive increases in Social Security and government employee salaries.

DO UNTO OTHERS...

BATON ROUGE, La. (UPI) — The chief attorney for the Louisiana Revenue Department has admitted to a committee investigating Mafia influence in the state that he did not file income tax returns for 1966 and 1967. Attorney Emmett Batson told the committee he owed the government nearly $200 for the two years but "I just was busy and didn't get around to offering the returns."

Panic Buying Spree Crosses England Today

By JOSEPH W. GRIGG

LONDON (UPI) — British housewives bustled through supermarkets in a panic buying spree today despite government assurances there was no immediate prospect of a food shortage as a result of the three-day-old nationwide dock strike.

The government alerted 36,000 soldiers, sailors and airmen to be ready to unload perishable foodstuffs from ships stranded in Britain's 40 seaports. They were not expected to be used before early next week for fear of angering the striking dockers and hampering chances of a settlement.

Prices rose at the prospects of a prolonged strike in an island nation that depends on ships for food. The prices of a rump roast went from 80 to 96 cents a pound.

Rising prices did not deter the housewives. They picked grocery shelves clean of meat, butter, fruit and other imported foods.

"The strike is terrible. Business is wonderful," said Malcolm Avery, a grocer in London's West End.

Queen Elizabeth proclaimed a state of national emergency Thursday, authorizing special powers to deal with the first total shutdown of British ports in 44 years. The country's 47,000 longshoremen struck Wednesday to support demands for an 80 per cent increase in the basic wage rate. Employers offered a 7 per cent hike.

Jack Jones, leader of the largest longshoremen's union, offered Thursday to start a new round of talks, but said the strike would continue.

The National Association of Port Employers said it would not negotiate during the strike.

The queen's state of emergency proclamation was taken to the House of Commons Thursday afternoon by Home Secretary Reginald Maudling and read out by the speaker, Dr. Horace King.

It was the fourth time since 1920 such powers had been invoked. The most recent was during a national seamen's strike in May, 1966.

We do not know why people put up with this sort of thing. Life would be much easier and much less complicated.

We firmly believe that most of man's troubles are brought upon self by his own actions.

Reading in a trade publication about the embarrassment some large firms suffer when new products are demonstrated.

Cynard Steam Ship Company was showing off the new Queen Elizabeth II when it pooped out. Bad engines.

United Aircraft Corp. was sending its new Turbo-Train down the tracks between Montreal and Toronto in 1968 on the maiden run and the train hit a truck.

Sikorsky Aircraft was showing off its new Skycrane helicopter when the huge machine crashed. Then too just the other day the Air Force was showing off its newest huge airplane when a wheel fell off as it was landing.

These are embarrassing moments, but almost inevitable when new products are being developed.

Squabble Develops Over Agnew Watch

ANAHEIM, Calif. (UPI) — The man who created the Spiro Agnew wristwatch says the vice president's request that part of the profits be donated to the families of Americans taken prisoner in Southeast Asia is an attempt to stifle political comment.

Agnew's attorney, George W. White Jr., said last week the watches constituted an invasion of privacy. However, he said Agnew might permit their sale if Dr. Hale E. Dougherty agreed to distribute part of the profits to the POW's families.

Dougherty told newsmen Wednesday he wrote White saying that to accede to the vice president's request would be a "recognition of the right of politicians to control and therefore to stifle political comment," a violation of the free speech guarantee of the Constitution.

He said he borrowed heavily to finance the enterprise and if it ever shows a profit, part of the proceeds will be donated to cancer research.

The Dougherty family has been filling scores of daily orders for the $14.95 watches, which shows a caricature of Agnew in a star-spangled suit with his hands pointing to the time.

A plum by any other name
LOS ANGELES, Calif. (UPI) — A plum is a fruit delicious to the taste.

The word also has a number of other meanings, reports Western Research Kitchens. An actor, with a choice role, has a "plum." In the financial world, an especially large dividend is known as a "plum." Many a lovelorn swain tells his sweetheart she is "plum beautiful" and "plum pudding" is a raisin-currant-citron dish without a plum in it.
